Confidential & Proprietary

Agenda

The purpose of this presentation is to review our Marketplace competitive position in each rating area to identify sales opportunities. Comparisons of our 2023 products based upon the following criteria:

- Network
- Rates
- Benefits
- Marketing Size and Opportunity

Disclaimers:

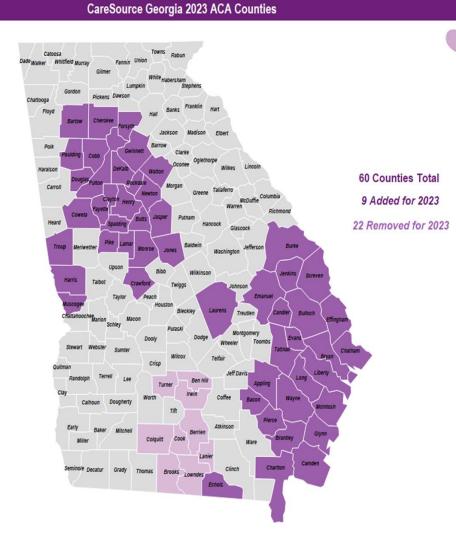

- Network comparisons are subject to the limitations of provider search tools available to the public. There could be participating facilities inaccurately reflected or not reflected within each rating area.
- Bronze & Silver Benefit comparisons are based upon the lowest premium plans.
- First Dollar benefit comparison is based on a carriers lowest cost plan which offers first dollar coverage for Primary Care
- Rates shown are for single member, age 21

Benefit Analysis

- Lowest Cost Bronze Alliant/CareSource/Cigna/Oscar & UHC have identical benefits of a $9,100 & MOOP, without copays. Ambetter, Friday and Kaiser offer plans with lower deductibles and copays for PCP, SPV and T1 drugs, while Friday of copays for all 4 tiers.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar Aetna has the largest deductibles at $8,700, while Kaiser offers the lowest at $5,500. The remaining carriers are all within the ballpark of each other. The MOOP's for all carriers are similar. Likewise, most office copays are in line with each other, except with UHC which offers a PCP copay of $0. Generic copays do not differ much, while Ambetter and CareSource and offer a $0 copay for select preventive medicines. Neither Aetna nor Anthem offer copays for any drug tier. Alliant, Ambetter, Friday, Oscar and UHC are the only carriers offering a Tier 2 copay.
- Lowest Cost Silver Deductible range from Cigna's $7,600 down to UHC's $4,000. MOOPS are almost identical across the board. PCP copays do not differ much, except for UHC's $0 copay. SPV copays are all in line. All carriers offer low T1 and T2 copays, except Cigna and Kaiser, who only offer it for T1.

Network & Rating Analysis

- Rate Compared to least expensive metal level plan
 - Lowest Cost Bronze Oscar has the lowest premium at $269. While Kaiser ($271) and Cigna ($276) are extremely close. CareSource is slightly higher at $295. All other carriers are between $38 and $61 higher than the lowest premium. UHC is uncompetitive at $401.
 - Lowest Cost First Dollar Kaiser has the lowest premium at $271. Oscar ($281) and Cigna ($286) are slightly higher. Both Aetna ($307), Ambetter ($313) and CareSource ($312) are relatively close. All other carriers are uncompetitive.
 - Lowest Cost Silver Cigna has the lowest premium at $290. The next closest is Friday at $336. CareSource and all other carriers are uncompetitive.
- Network Ambetter has the largest provider network in the area with Anthem & CareSource close behind. Aetna and Alliant both offer decent networks, while all other carriers are offering a limited network.

Final Analysis

Rating Area 3: Atlanta

Overall – I always love doing the Atlanta rating area, as it is just all over the place. Typically, if your member only cares about premium, Friday, Kaiser and Oscar are always in play, but these networks are very small. Cigna is a new entrant, but due to the fact they are not yet showing a network, it is hard to analyze them. Thus, for the general consumer, Aetna, Ambetter, Alliant, Anthem and CareSource are your best options. Thus, we will focus on these five carriers. Things could change once Cigna's network is known.

- Lowest Cost Bronze CareSource's lower premium will typical win out over the better benefits being offered by both Aetna and Ambetter. But for those looking for the best of both, Ambetter's benefit package is slightly better than Aetna's.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar Toss up. Aetna has the lowest premium of the five, but they do not offer an Rx copay. Both Aliant's and Anthem premiums are uncompetitive. Between Ambetter and CareSource. CareSource's benefits, especially at the copay level and their $1 premium advantage, give them the nod for most consumers.
- Lowest Cost Silver With all plans being relatively the same, premium is key. Both Ambetter and Aetna are both at $350. However, Ambetter has the much larger network and thus should be the primary choice. Note; Cigna's premiums here are the lowest by $60. Thus, with any form of competitive network, they would win this level by a long shot.

Benefit Analysis

Region 5 (Waynesboro Area)

- Lowest Cost Bronze Alliant, CareSource & UHC have identical benefits of a $9,100 & MOOP, without copays. Ambetter, Anthem and Friday and offer plans with lower deductibles, yet MOOP's equal to all the carriers. Ambetter and Friday offer copays for PCP, SPV as well as T1 & T2 drugs, while Friday of copays for all 4 tiers.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar CareSource has the largest deductibles at $8,000, while Alliant offers the lowest at $5,800. The remaining carriers are all within the ballpark of each other. The MOOP's for all carriers are similar. Likewise, most office copays are in line with each other, except with UHC which offers a PCP copay of $0. Generic copays do not differ much, while CareSource offers a $0 copay for select preventive medicines. Anthem does not offer copays for any drug tier. Alliant, Ambetter, Friday, and UHC are the only carriers offering a Tier 2 copay. Friday once again over copays for all four tiers.
- Lowest Cost Silver Deductible range from Anthem and CareSource's $6,500 down to UHC's $4,000.
 MOOPS are almost identical across the board. PCP copays do not differ much, except for UHC's $0 copay.

- Network Ambetter has the largest provider network in the area with Anthem & CareSource close behind.
 Aetna and Alliant both offer decent networks, while all other carriers are offering a limited network.

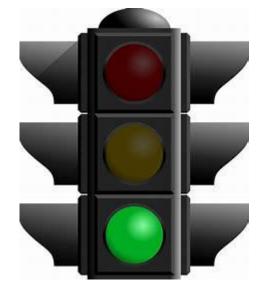

Final Analysis

Region 5 (Waynesboro Area)

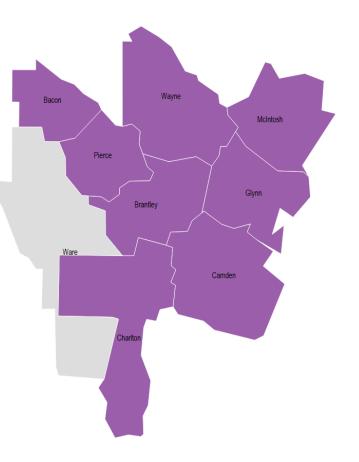

Overall – CareSource is only in three of the 12 counties. More of an expansion of the bordering rating area. However, is these three counties, CareSource has a significant rating advantage at both the Bronze and First Dollar levels. Furthermore, their benefits and networks in these counties are extremely competitive. Thus, in these counties, CareSource would be the favorite. However, for the sake of the entire rating area, we will exclude them from the following.

- Lowest Cost Bronze The Ambetter and Friday have very similar benefits, with Friday having a $6 advantage in premium over Ambetter. However, Ambetter significantly larger network gives them the nod in all counties not occupied by CareSource.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar The Ambetter and Friday have very similar benefits, with Friday having a $6 advantage in premium over Ambetter. However, Ambetter significantly larger network gives them the nod in all counties not occupied by CareSource.
- Lowest Cost Silver Alliant, Ambetter and Friday have almost identical benefits. And while Friday has a significant premium advantage, their network is very narrow. Toss up depending upon network needs.

 - Lowest Cost Silver CareSource has the lowest premium at $286. While Ambetter ($292) is a bit higher, and Anthem ($303) is uncompetitive.
- Network Although Aetna is showing the largest network, they did not file for this rating area. Ambetter, Anthem and CareSource all have equally sized networks.

Final Analysis

Rating Area 6: SE Georgia

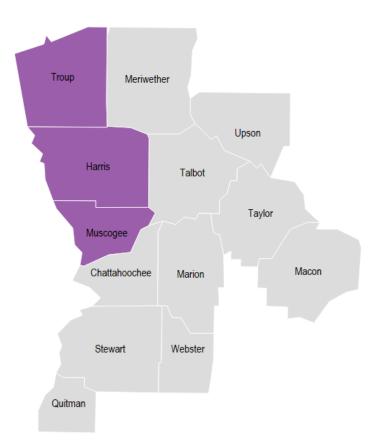

Overall – This is an easy one. Based on CareSource's significant premium advantage at the Bronze and First Dollar levels, as well as their competitive benefit designs at all three levels, they dominate at the Bronze and have a slight advantage at Silver. Ambetter could be considered at the Bronze level only in the instance where a specific provider is necessary. The probably is higher at the Silver level, where CareSource only has a $6 premium advantage.

- Lowest Cost Bronze CareSource, Cigna, Oscar & UHC have identical benefits of a $9,100 & MOOP, without copays. Ambetter and Friday offer plans with lower deductibles and copays for PCP, SPV and T1 drugs, while Friday of copays for all 4 tiers.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar CareSource has the largest deductibles at $8,000, while Anthem offers the lowest at $6,000. The remaining carriers are all within the ballpark of each other. The MOOP's for all carriers are similar. Likewise, most office copays are in line with each other, except with UHC which offers a PCP copay of $0. Anthem, Cigna, Oscar and UHC do not have a copay for specialist visits. Generic copays do not differ much, while CareSource offers a $0 copay for select preventive medicines and both Cigna and UHC generic copays is at $3. Anthem does not offer copays for any drug tier. Alliant, Ambetter, Friday, Oscar and UHC are the only carriers offering a Tier 2 copay.
- Lowest Cost Silver Deductible range from Cigna's $7,600 down to UHC's $4,000. MOOPS are almost identical across the board. PCP copays do not differ much, except for UHC's $0 copay. SPV copays are all in line. All carriers offer low T1 and T2 copays, except Cigna, who only offers it for T1.

 - Lowest Cost Bronze Oscar has the lowest premium at $264, while Ambetter is a close second at $267. CareSource is slightly higher at $277. All other carriers are quite a bit higher than the lowest premium. UHC is uncompetitive at $421.
 - Lowest Cost First Dollar Ambetter has the lowest premium at $267, while Oscar is a close second at $276. CareSource is a but higher at $293. All other carriers are quite a bit higher than the lowest premium. UHC is uncompetitive at $476.
 - Lowest Cost Silver Friday has the lowest premium at $309. Cigna is a close second at $313. Ambetter is slightly higher at $321. CareSource and all other carriers are uncompetitive.
- Network Anthem has a slightly larger network, although Ambetter and CareSource are only slightly smaller. Alliant comes in third, while the rest of the carriers are offering very limited networks.

Final Analysis

Rating Area 8: Columbus

Overall – Ambetter and Oscar are very similar in the rates at the Bronze and First Dollar levels. CareSource is in the mix at all three levels and will be a factor based on network needs. All other carriers are uncompetitive, except Friday does enter the conversation at Silver.

- Lowest Cost Bronze Due their plan design and network strength, Ambetter's $3 in extra premium compared to Oscar, is justified, and should be higher considered for all members. If either Hughston Hospital or the Medical Center is a primary need in the network, CareSource is the most competitive option.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar Although both Ambetter and Oscar plans are very similar, Ambetter's premium advantage and larger network will prevail for most members. CareSource is also an option, if once again, either Hughston Hospital or the Medical Center are needed in the network.
- Lowest Cost Silver Tough call. Both Ambetter and Friday have very similar plan designs. Friday has the lower T1 copays, while Ambetter as the lower T2. Will come down to network needs.

Overall – From a rating standpoint, Cigna looks very strong here. However, until we can see any form of a network, we just cannot compare them. If, when their network is released and if it is adequate, they would be the hands down favorite at all metal levels.

- Lowest Cost Bronze CareSource's has a slight premiums advantage over Aetna, while Aetna has a better benefit design. Friday's premium is just as competitive, and their benefits are equally attractive. Toss up.
- Lowest Cost First Dollar –Aetna has the lowest premium, but their benefits are not as good, nor do they offer an Rx copay. Friday's premiums are slightly higher, but their plan offers copays for a Rx tiers. CareSource has the most competitive benefit design for just a few dollars more, plus the have the largest network of the three. Advantage CareSource.
